Special Interest Groups

As if all things BMW weren't special interest enough, some of us like to drill down further into the minutia of Bimmer lore. These independent groups are organized around specific vintage or rare BMWs. They provide information and activities ranging from driving events and web-based digests to publications and news bulletins. Click here for more information.

Become a Member

If BMW is the ultimate expression of your driving passion, we have a place for you in the largest association of BMW owners in the world. We could fill a whole page outlining all the member benefits. In fact, we have. Membership runs $48 a year, with discounts for multi-year or lifetime memberships. It includes Roundel (print and online), full access to BMWCCA.org, access to Technical Service Advisors, and member discounts. Associate membership for $10 a person is available to others in the same household with the same benefits; you share a copy of Roundel and your chapter newsletter. Not yet a member? Click here to join online (or click on Become a Member above) or call the club at 800-878-9292 (use this number to join or renew; 864-250-0022 for other calls).

BMW CCA Affiliates Program – Discounts, Special Offers

BMW CCA's Affiliates Program provides discounts and special offers. And we've checked to make sure they're legitimate discounts, not just come-ons. In addition to what's below, there may be additional discounts and specials throughout the year.

About BMW CCA

The year was 1969. There were soldiers in Vietnam. Hippies at Woodstock. And in Boston, a few car nuts were wandering the streets, snapping leaflets to the windshields of a curious new German import – the BMW 2002. They were recruiting members for a new car club dedicated to the object of their desire. At least some people had their priorities in order.

In time, veterans, hippies, and other driving purists from all over the spectrum would find common ground in what has become the world's largest owner-supported car club – the BMW Car Club of America. Today, BMW CCA has 65 chapters nationwide, with more than 75,000 members, mutually enhancing each other's BMW ownership experience. You know that little flash of camaraderie that washes over you when you see a pair of BMW kidneys coming down the road? If you even know what that question means, you're either already a member, or should be. You have to own a BMW to understand.

It doesn't matter what model you drive. Whether you're on your first Bimmer, or your thirtieth, there are just certain subjects that only BMW owners are interested in. BMW CCA is where we address all of them.

Our official mission is: to enhance the BMW experience for our members by providing services, support, information, and activities that promote camaraderie and encourage social awareness and responsibility. Unofficially, we're a big support group for Ultimate Driving Machine addiction. Nothing wrong with that.

BMW CCA enjoys a strong yet independent relationship with BMW AG and its BMW of North America subsidiary. We are a not-for-profit corporation governed by a nine-member elected board of directors – four national officers and five regional vice-presidents who serve the interests of our chapters. Each chapter is an independent corporation chartered by BMW CCA. Our headquarters is in Greenville, SC. Enough with administration. What will you get out of the club? Read on.Join now
